Sharing knowledge & insights

Since its inception, Sia Partners has been developing a policy of research and publication. Our teams decode weak and strong signals in the news, meet with various experts, carry out quantitative and prospective studies, and much more. Our research gives us a strong knowledge of the needs of our clients and allows us to better anticipate their future needs.

A best practice in Corporate & Social Responsibility

Sia Partners places employee commitment at the heart of its HR strategy. We treat our team with respect and fairness and help employees develop their professional skills. Making social responsibility an integral part of our mission, we promote and value a healthy balance between job responsibilities and family life. We also make sure that our offices are environmentally friendly. The firm is a member of several networks of corporate decision makers as well as trade associations.
